AT TODAY'S MEETING

SECOND WEEK IN AUGUST
CHOSEN FOR JANESVILLE
AGRICULTURAL EXPO-SITION.

TO HAVE RACE CIRCUIT

Secretaries of Southern Wisconsin
Fair Association Settle Important Matter at Conference.

For the settling of contending points on fairs in Southern Wisconsin and for a general conference, secretaries of the Southern Wisconsin Fair Association held a meeting at the Myers Hotel this afternoon, at which representatives of all the fair cities in this section of the state were present.

The second week in August was named at the conference after dinner, for fair week in Janesville and as to dates claimed and agreed upon beforehand, by the other fair officials. The race circuit was established as planned from the Wisconsin Grand Circuit and matters relating to advertising and billing were gone over and plans perfected for co-operation to make Southern Wisconsin fair better. The inter-changing of exhibits from one fair to another and rules laid down by the representatives of the associations to secure the best exhibitions at better rates. C. S. Putnam was named as chairman and M. Parkinson of Madison secretary of the meeting.

Several booking agents with fair attractions were present and the secretaries considered signing contracts for entertainments. The meeting was for the common interest of all the fair associations and was called by C. S. Putnam of the Janesville Association. Those present at the meeting were: B. E. Skinner, Beloit; W. H. Garrell, of Mineral Point; M. D. Foster, of Jefferson; F. W. Gilman, of Evansville; Frank Hynes, president of the Rock County Fair Association of Janesville; C. L. Brown, superintendent of the speed events, of the Jefferson fair; M. E. Baltzer, of Monroe; Thomas Kervin, of Darlington; F. M. Porter of Elkhorn; M. M. Parkinson of Madison and C. W. Harte of Watertown.

REGULATION OF UTILITIES
SAVES MADISON CITIZENS
A LARGE AMOUNT ANNUALLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., March 13.—The total annual savings to the citizens of Madison resulting from the regulation of public utilities by the railroad commission amounts to $126,274. This compilation is made by comparing the old rates with the rates now in effect. During the last four years the rates of the Madison Gas & Electric company have been reduced three times and the data recently filed with the commission shows the savings to the public. The first reduction in revenues amounted to $9,431 in the electric and $9,371 in the gas. The second and third orders were the result of investigations by the commission. The second order out revenues about $24,000 and the third order about $40,000 as applied to electric service. The commissions' experts estimate that when the rates existing prior to the first decision are applied to the annual saving to electric users will amount to $110,320 and $9,945 to gas consumers.

Peace Society's Interest in Canal Tolls.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, March 13.—Activities of Andrew Carnegie's endowment for international peace in circulating in favor of a repeal of the Panama tolls exemption were brought out before the senate lobby committee today in the testimony of James Brown Scott, secretary of the foundation.

It was developed that the endowment expended thousands of dollars in a campaign of education. Scott testified that more than million copies of pamphlet urging repeal under date of March 15, 1913, were distributed. The endowment also distributed, Dr. Scott testified, 715,000 copies of Senator Root's speech during the repeal.

Spend $23,000.
Senator Walsh brought out that there was an allotment of $23,000 for circulation of Panama Canal literature and the 75,000 copies of Senator Root's speech had been sent out by the endowment under the senator's frank. Mr. Scott said the order of the executive committee directing Root's absence, also distributed, "This is a peace society, isn't it?" demanded Reed.

"It is," answered Scott.
"Just what has it to do with Panama tolls questions?"
"Its business is to smooth out misunderstandings."
"And to yield to other nations," asked Senator Reed.
"You will find no yielding to other nations in our attitude," Scott declared.

WESTON RE-ARRESTED ON LEAVING PRISON

Cincinnati Detective Apprehends
Janesville Embezzler at Gate of Reformatory at Green Bay.

Jack Weston, formerly bookkeeper for the Rock River Woolen Mills, who was sentenced in the Janesville court to one year's term at the state reformatory a year ago, was arrested yesterday when given his freedom from the Green Bay institution by a Pinkerton detective and was taken to Cincinnati to stand trial on the charge of embezzlement.

Weston, on his escape from the Janesville police, went east, and was alleged to have obtained money under false pretenses in several of the big eastern cities before his apprehension at Buffalo. Warrants were sworn out for him in Cincinnati and other cities, but Janesville had first claim on him and was given a year's term here. Weston was taken by the detective to Chicago yesterday and will probably stand trial on the serious charges. Over two months ago the Janesville police received letters from several police departments and in the east, and one detective agency, asking when Weston's time was up.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED AT MID-WINTER FAIR

MOST OF THE CONTESTS ARE DE-CIDED TODAY BY EXPERT JUDGES.

QUALITY IS A FEATURE

Entries of High Grade Make Decisions Close.—Fair Open Even-nings.

That the Mid-Winter Fair is an unqualified success is certain. One has but to look over the exhibits to see that the residents of Rock county are most enthusiastic over the prospects of holding a fair here next August. The band concerts held each evening will doubtless attract good sized crowds and the closing afternoon and evening Saturday will give the residents of the county an opportunity of viewing the exhibits.

This morning the judges of the entries at the Mid-Winter Fair were busy making decisions in the various classes. Professor A. L. Stone and H. Luzz of the University of Wisconsin were judging the grain and vegetable entries. Mrs. C. McDonald and Mrs. Frank Nicholson acted as judges in the poultry department. Miss E. Capelle acted as judge in the domestic department, such as home made rugs, and quilts. E. Haskins is the judge of the tobacco entries. All of the entries are numbered, so there is no possibility of favoritism being shown.

From two-thirty this afternoon until five o'clock the band played a concert for the entertainment of the many farmers who had journeyed to the city to see the fair. On account of the fair weather a large attendance was present. Talks were given by Mr. Luzz and Professor Stone for the benefit of those in attendance.

The following is the list of prize winners in the contests thus far decided:

White Bread.
First prize, Mrs. F. H. Inman.
Second prize, Rose Morton.
Third prize, Mrs. Clara Teubert.
Fourth prize, Mrs. S. M. Clapper.

Second prize, R. J. Clark.
Third prize, Scott Robinson.

Timothy.
First prize, Martin Paulson.
Second prize, Geo. Stark.
Third prize, F. G. Rumpf.

All of the judges agreed that the quality of the entries was high, and Mr. Luzz was especially generous in his praise of the grains entered by the Rock county farmers. The efforts of the committee in charge bear fruit in the successful outcome of the fair. As an annual institution it appears to be increasingly successful.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Tokio, March 13.—The appropriation for the construction of new ships for the Japanese navy was reduced by the house of peers today by fifteen million dollars, bringing the figure down to forty-five million. The reduction was adopted by 240 to 44 votes.

A lively discussion preceded the vote, the cabinet was severely condemned in connection with the recent naval armament scandal in which several prominent naval officers were alleged to have accepted commissions for influencing the allotment of contracts.

Three Others Wounded in Clash
With Gang of Robbers Near Peoria, Ill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Peoria, March 13.—Freight car thieves early today killed one man and wounded three others when surprised at work near Manlius, Ill., 45 miles north of Peoria.

Two of the thieves were captured by a posse from Langley and Princeton. The officers were still searching for two more members of the band when word of the shooting reached here.

The victims of the robbers were Arthur Fisher, a C. & N. W. railroad freight engineer, who was killed; Bert Skegand, a deputy sheriff of Bureau county, fatally wounded; Leslie Beyer, son of the sheriff, wounded in the leg; and a fireman of the freight train also shot in the leg.

Kewanee, Ill., March 13.—The third member of the band of freight thieves, who killed Engineer Fisher at Manlius, was captured east of here today. The officers were close on the trail of the fourth man.

Was Veteran Engineer.
Chicago, March 13.—The slain engineer was Arthur Fisher of Escanaba, Mich., a deputy sheriff of Bureau county, fatally wounded. He had been with the road about ten years, recently having been transferred from the Michigan division.

OFFICIALS INDICTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Ohio State Authorities Charge Four Prominent Men With Collecting Funds For Frees Bureau.

Columbus, O., March 13.—Seventeen indictments were returned in the common pleas court today against four prominent men, three of them officials or attaches of state departments, charged that the men indicted conspired to collect money for the Frees Bureau.

Those indicted were Emory W. Lattanner, state superintendent of banks; W. L. Finley, chairman of the democratic state committee; A. V. Abernethy, secretary of the state tax commission; and N. A. Collier, chief clerk to the superintendent of banks. It is charged that the men indicted contributed or caused state employees to contribute to a fund for the maintenance of the democratic press bureau, which was operated under direction of Chairman Finley and of which Abernethy was the literary head. The penalty upon conviction may be either fine or imprisonment under the state law.

All of those named in the indictment had anticipated the action of the grand jury and presented bonds aggregating more than two million, the sureties being Columbus financiers and business men.

The Double Guarantee

When you buy a standard, nationally advertised article from a merchant of standing and character you are buying with double protection to yourself.

You have a double guarantee to fall back on—that of the manufacturer and that of the man who sells the goods.

You, of course, have to deal only with the store from which you buy; the store, in turn, looks to the manufacturer to make good for any deficiency.

It is not often that anyone will have need of the guarantee, but when a thing is sold by such open and above-board methods it is going to be as nearly right as it can possibly be made.

There is a protection in buying advertised goods that there isn't in buying those which are not advertised.

The best guide to reliable buying is the advertising in live newspapers like The Gazette.

More people are reading advertising every day because it pays.

NOTIFICATION TO BRITISH AMBASSADOR.

SENATE MISINFORMED

Page Declares He Expressly Stated
That United States Would Object To Europeans Acquiring Territory.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, March 13.—Ambassador Walter H. Page today received from Secretary of State Bryan notification of the United States senate in regard to his speech on the Panama Canal and the Monroe Doctrine delivered before the Association of Chambers of Commerce on Wednesday.

The secretary of state requested the ambassador to cable an explanation of the speech and Mr. Page immediately began the preparation of his reply.

Thinks Senators Misled.
After reading full accounts of the proceedings in the senate, Ambassador Page came to the conclusion that the senators had been misled by the excessive condemnation of his remarks in regard to his interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

Mr. Page declared that he had distinctly said that the United States would object to, or prohibit any nation from taking possession of territory in the new world and then in concluding had said amid the laughter of the audience:

Remark Brings Laughter.
"So you see that the United States would prefer that no European power should gain more territory in the new world."

The ambassador's remarks, he declared, had been too greatly condemned. When referring to the Panama Canal he had said that Great Britain would profit most from the Panama Canal because she owned the great bulk of the world's shipping.

DENIES NEW LAW IS BALKING MARRIAGES

Dr. Harper of State Board of Health
Contends Eugenics Law Has Not Decreased Weddings.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 13.—The eugenics law passed at the last session of the legislature has had practically no effect on the normal number of marriages in the state is the contention of Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer. In December, 1912, there were 1,521 marriages as compared with 2,025 in December, last year.

In other words, there was an increase of 505 marriages in December last year over the same month the year before," said Dr. Harper. "Many people doubtless desired to marry before the law became effective in January and there has been a small falling off in the marriages of January this year as compared with a year before. But the difference for the two months of January compared is only 209, while the increase in marriages last December was 505."

Dr. Harper said that the statistics showed that there were 1,411 marriages in January, 1913, as compared with 1,202 marriages in January this year. The eugenics law has been held unconstitutional in one of the Milwaukee courts, but Attorney General Walter C. Owen said today that the appeal had already been made and that case would be argued in the supreme court probably in May. The constitutionality of the law will be presented to the court before the present calendar of cases is completed.

FIRE IN TENEMENT

Sixty Persons in Danger When Fire
Starts in Bridgeport, Conn., Apartment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Bridgeport, Conn., March 13.—Fire in a six family tenement house here early today caused the death of three men and may result in the death of a fourth and endangered the lives of sixty other persons. The dead are James Stadio, George Colla and John Kalrice.

The fire broke out in the basement and ate its way rapidly up through the partitions. The dead men were found suffocated and buried in a small sleeping room on the first floor. The fourth man, who is now at the hospital in a serious condition, was found unconscious on the second floor.

Attempt to Appeal Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, Ind., March 13.—The certified copy of the judgment of the United States Supreme Court in the dynamite case decided last Monday was received by United States District Attorney Frank C. Bailey here today. Mr. Bailey immediately forwarded it to the court of appeals at Chicago for such action and orders as the court desires to make.

It is the understanding here that the court of appeals will remand the convicted men to Fort Leavenworth penitentiary, for when the case was appealed from the district court it passed out of the hands of the court here. Edward Smythe, of Peoria, one of the twenty-four men who were denied a new trial by the ruling of the Supreme Court has reported voluntarily to Fort Leavenworth and begun serving his sentence according to news dispatches received here.

Are Held on Serious Charges.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Kansas City, March 13.—With the arrest of a fifth man early today, the police say they have all save one of the six men who last Monday afternoon lured Mrs. Gertrude Shidler, a trained nurse, to a grand avenue room and attacked her. Four other men are identified by Mrs. Shidler as her assailants, and will be given preliminary hearings tomorrow.

Following a report that they were preparing to leave the city to avoid testing at the preliminary, Mrs. Josette Freeman, keeper of a rooming house and Miss Grace Mase, were arrested.

The council of women's clubs of Kansas City today appointed a committee to extend all aid possible to Mrs. Shidler in the prosecution of her assailants. The county prosecutor's office has been flooded with petitions demanding speedy justice.

PROBING BAUCH CASE

Caranza Commission Said to Have Evidence That Col. Avila Ordered Execution of German American.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
El Paso, March 13.—Unconfirmed reports received here last night from Americans arriving from Chihuahua to the effect that the Carranza commission had caused the arrest of Major Rudolph Fierro, one of General Villa's subordinate officers, as the slayer of William S. Benton, a British subject, were given credence today by those interested in the case.

The report stated that Major Fierro is being held on a blind charge for the killing of two Mexican railroad men in a resort at Chihuahua. At the time of Benton's execution it was reported Fierro was in General Villa's office, said to have been the scene of the execution. It is known that the Carranza commission began its investigation with information that Benton had been killed by Fierro.

General Carranza's commission is said to have gathered convincing evidence that Col. Avila, commander of the rebel garrison at Juarez, ordered the execution of Gustav Bauch, a German-American, who was tried as a spy, but in whose case no verdict was rendered. Denial that Bauch was killed has been made repeatedly by rebel officers at Juarez and at Chihuahua.

Avila Ordered Killing.
Bauch was not executed until two days after General Villa had left Juarez, it was said. It is not known whether Avila had orders for the execution, but the commission is said to have evidence indicating that he directly ordered the execution of the German-American.

Developments connecting Fierro with the Benton case have been looked for since Monday, when the major was removed as general manager of the rebel railroad. When he had looked for Fierro "disappearance" or apparent accidental death. Few expected he would live to face the charges in the Benton case.

LA FOLLETTE URGES
NEED OF PUBLICITY

Wisconsin Senator Calls on President to Break Policy of Silence on Mexican Affairs.

Madison, March 13.—Wider publicity on the Mexican situation in the form of special messages to congress is urged by Senator La Follette today. He declared that recent occurrence in Mexico, "admonition that at any moment events may occur which will compel the fullest publicity as to the loss of life and property for which this government must assume some measure of primary responsibility to foreign powers as well as to our own people."

Senator La Follette says that war with Cuba was avoided for many years because the different presidents had informed congress of events in Cuba as they transpired. His editorial in his magazine today is virtually a call upon President Wilson to break the policy of silence.

"Are we in danger of holding back the facts until some sweeping acts of violence uncovers a gruesome mass of wrong and horror that will carry us with a rush across the Rio Grande?" asks the senator.

"War with Spain was averted throughout a long period by the administration of both parties pursuing a frank and open policy with congress and the country," continues the senator. "Nothing was concealed from President Cleveland in his annual message, discussed fully all the then existing conditions, the amount of American capital invested in the island, the enormous losses sustained, the imprisonment and torture and killing of American citizens, and steps taken by the government to redress the wrongs."

"A crisis came in the Mexican situation. It is my firm belief that President Wilson would find it infinitely easier to control with steady hand, if in advance, he had reposed the fullest confidence in the American people and submitted to their intelligent judgment every important fact which concerns this government in its relations to Mexico and the world."

YOUNG men are especially pleased with our new shapes in Roswell hats at $3.00. There's an "air" about them, which catches the fancy of the smart young dressers. This is the place to see the full line.

DR. GRAHAM TAYLOR GIVES MANY IDEAS FOR CIVIC UPLIFT

NOTED SETTLEMENT WORKER SEES PROMISE OF NEW AND IMPROVED CITY LIFE.

NEW COMPETENT MEN

Sacrifice Necessary On Part of Private Interests to Promote Public Improvement.

Last evening the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. was not large enough to hold the audience that came to hear Graham Taylor lecture on "Human Values at Stake in Local Government." Mayor Fathen introduced Mr. Taylor briefly, saying that he did not wish to usurp the precious time of the speaker by a long dissertation on who he was, as his talk would give the best idea of the principles that he was working for.

Dr. Taylor mounted the platform, he could not have been said to have a prepossessing appearance. He is a tall spare man, slightly bent forward at all times as though his life had been spent in bowing to his fellow men. Before he had gone far he had impressed everyone that he had a message of vital importance to deliver. In his talk he said, "On the subject of my lecture, I have no theory except as has been born by necessity, and it is not such that I would refuse to give it up if shown a better one. However there is a universal awakening in that people are coming to realize that local government is the most human institution in the world. And it should be so, for the local government more vitally serves us than either the state or the federal government. In speaking of a town or a city, it would be well to limit ourselves to some definite conception of just what we mean by the term. In a legal sense it is a certain political administration within fixed territorial limits. But that idea gives no conception of the function. The politicians look upon the city as an annex to the state or national party, or serving as a strength for the party in power. We have our county chairman, our state central committee, our national committee, and of these look to the city as a source of material for bolstering their own party strength. In other words, all of them are using the city as a football with which to play the game of politics. There is another conception of the state and that is the idea of being a business corporation with the mayor or the president, the aldermen or stockholders, the citizens in general as interested parties in the work of this great corporation. We take this view and we must appreciate that this is the greatest of all corporations within the confines of these territorial limits. I must not be subverted to the selfishness of any other party. The city needs as good men in its management as do the money making corporations of private individuals, but where can we find a man who will take the positions offered in the corporation of the city? Who have patriotism enough, we haven't fore-sight enough. Although the capable men will not take the sacrifice of their time in filling these offices they will kick and object when a less man is attempting to do the best he can. But be that as it may, the first great difficulty with our local government is that we do not put in the right men, or women.

(Applause)

Now our city is nothing more, nor less than a federation of the families that live within its confines. Jani Addams has made the safety of the "Long ago when the safety of the city depended on those who could bear arms, only those who were capable of so doing had the privilege of becoming citizens. But today it is no longer a matter of bearing arms, it is a matter of bearing children."

Janesville is a federation of families, and the family is the framework and ground work of the life of everything within its limits. Every inhabitant should be dependent on the city for its vital needs. Some men say, "The city government should keep its nose out of our private affairs."

When our private affairs are so conducted as to affect the lives of our citizens it is the duty of our city government to interfere. No greater need of this interference than is found in the regulation of conditions that affect our health, our water supply, our drainage, and our house sanitation. Closely allied with this phase of our life, is the moderate price of housing. It is a personal matter when it comes to the individual, but it is a matter of public interest when it comes to the city as a whole. The city government should be able to regulate the price of housing, and the city government should be able to regulate the price of housing, and the city government should be able to regulate the price of housing.

The police department is a source of the greatest trouble, for we find that they not only allow crime and vice to exist, but they aid and abet it. It is our fault, because we put the law on the statute books, and we put it to enforce and then tell the policeman to use his own discretion in enforcing it. He sells that discretion. But the woman vote will fix the doom of domesticated vice, and police protected graft.

I believe in non-restriction of immigration, because the foreigner looks to this country as the haven of peace and the place where he may escape oppression. It is not the duty of the city government to restrict the immigrant, and now we must keep our promise.

Another idea we should work out is town planning. For the present time we build our towns in any way with no foresight.

Zones should be established to prevent manufacturing establishments from encroaching on residential rights.

The solution for the whole problem is in the individual treating the government as a human institution and the authorities as friends and not enemies.

When God shall dwell with men in the tabernacle of their cities then will the grace of Jesus Christ be on us all.

LIMA MAN IS GIVEN
SEVEN DAY SENTENCE
BY JUDGE MAXFIELD

Trouble with his employer led Valentine Wilson, a farm hand employed near Lima, to Janesville yesterday, where he met a friend, and the end of his adventure was before the justice bar in the municipal court this morning on the charge of drunkenness. On his plea of guilty and testimony that this was his first offense in this city, Judge Maxfield fined him five dollars and costs and seven days in jail. Wilson preferred the latter alternative and was paroled out this afternoon.

Wilson was arrested yesterday afternoon by Police Kemp on Main street, in court he told Judge Maxfield he never got drunk unless he planned for a "spree," and usually made "White water" the scene for his plans.

affect the community. Just at present there is little attempt at regulation in most cities, and one man can build a soap factory beside another if he so desires. But there are cities where there has been a decided stand in making private builders conform to public interests in their building. In Liverpool there were 4900 homes condemned as being unfit for residence. 1800 of them were razed. And the housing problem became so vital that the city could not wait for private interests to replace these buildings, and so went into the housing game itself.

The authorities feel that it will be cheaper to make good children than to take care of them if they grow up into criminals, delinquents, or invalids. Then they have been building houses for homeless men, houses to take the place of jails and lock ups. Have you ever been to the lock up on a cold night, to see the mob that is seeking shelter there? Our system of casual exchange work for a few months, work in another part of the country for a few months, makes vagrants and sends them from one slum to another and even across the ocean seeking a better life. Then after vagrancy has been refused into their blood, we punish them for being just what we have made them. Our city should be regarded as a big house keeping a family, and consequently we should provide for every one coming under our civic roof. The municipal lodging houses are solving the problem, but they are inadequate.

Robert De Forest, Vice President of the New Jersey Railroad, President of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and President of the United Charities of New York, have said that there is no one for housing a man with a family, who gets only ten dollars a week. He has had a great deal of experience with housing conditions in the tenement districts of New York and he knows. He said that inevitably they will get back at us in ill health, vagrancy, or crime.

Poverty used to be thought to be a fixed condition, so ordained by divine providence, but they have come to look upon it as a natural, but eradicable disease.

The housing problem should be handled by the municipal government, merely as a matter of self preservation.

If the individual fails in his duty the voluntary agencies of the government cannot succeed. And neglect the part of the voluntary agencies will defeat the state.

I don't know where we got into the habit of everlastingly talking about saving of souls. Jesus talked about that man or that woman or that child, never at length on the subject of saving souls, but only by saying we can save souls by saving ourselves. It is the self that should be cared for.

After awhile we will come to see that the city is too precious to be played with and that the city is too important to be left to the whims of a few men. We elect men and then forget entirely who they are. How many county commissioners? And how many city councilmen? They spend $300,000,000 a year in the United States. The corner of Cook county said in the past five years had been 35,000 requests over bodies that had reached the city in an unnatural manner. When we started out to kill each other in the Civil war with all the modern appliances, we succeeded in killing only 90,000 in four years. One of the chief pathways to crime and vice is the city street and its trades of flower selling, messenger service and newspaper selling. Another difficult problem is the leisure time problem. Play grounds and the greatest need of the city is that Chicago ever made. Public dance halls under supervision are coming to take the place of the vicious resorts of past years. Teach people to have a good time in a wholesome way.

The police department is a source of the greatest trouble, for we find that they not only allow crime and vice to exist, but they aid and abet it. It is our fault, because we put the law on the statute books, and we put it to enforce and then tell the policeman to use his own discretion in enforcing it. He sells that discretion. CROWNHART SPEAKS ON LIABILITY LAWS

HEAD OF INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION GIVE INFORMATION ON STATUTES.

PROTECT WORKINGMEN

Urges Organization of Mutual Insurance Company of City Employers
To Escape High Rates.

C. H. Crownhart, chairman of the state industrial commission, addressed the members of the Janesville Industrial Exchange and Janesville business and working men interested in the "Workmen's Compensation Law" at the assembly rooms of the city hall last night, giving valuable information on the points that were misunderstood by men of this city. Before confining his remarks to the law itself, Mr. Crownhart spoke of the relative value and the purposes of the legislation, giving many examples of accidents that have come before the commission for settlement.

The primary work of the liability act is to protect both employer and employee, and the greatest work of the industrial commission is to agitate and organize safety work in all departments of industry in the state of Wisconsin, and I think that the commission is doing a very good job. The organization of safety committees in every factory where there are losses from injuries and death of the employer should, and are, establishing departments devoted to safety work. The factory men to see that the men are lined up to carry out the first principles of the compensation laws to reduce accidents.

Workingmen often find it hard to reach by these methods, for they like freedom in their work, and having been employed on the work for years without an accident, assume that the machinery is safe. They do not know that the laborer can render the service to the success of these laws by knowing the dangers and spreading the word that workmen are not satisfied with the law and doubt if they ever will be. The labor question is one that cannot be settled, as the two parties will always try to get the best of the bargain, and there is the trouble. A laborer will try and collect all the damages possible, and when by law he is limited to what seems a fair amount, he will kick and complain. The compensation law gives immediate relief to both the injured man and his family. When hurt, the employer is bound to give medical attention and to pay bills during his illness. The injured man's family must have a livelihood and the law compels him employer to pay sixty-five per cent of his wages during disability for a stipulated period. Under the old law, the injured man was left to his own devices, and his family was left to starve. Now a man's family or dependents are awarded four times his annual wage, or a limit of three thousand dollars in case of death. The injured man is given his wages, his injuries render him helpless, such as being blind.

It is an actual fact that before it took seventy-five per cent of a man's wages, the injured man was left to his own devices, and his family was left to starve. Now a man's family or dependents are awarded four times his annual wage, or a limit of three thousand dollars in case of death. The injured man is given his wages, his injuries render him helpless, such as being blind.

The new amendment to the act makes it elective, and at the start few employers wanted to experience the new statutes, but gradually they have seen the protection to both sides, and in February of this year ninety-eight per cent of the employers in industrial work were under the new law. The employer who files his petition to stay out, rather than file his petition to come under, as soon as you hire four men, anyone, one is under the law. Crownhart declared that the employer had to represent throughout the state and was a plain case of a law that people are expected to know all about, but don't. It has been a current belief that an employer liable for a workman from the time he leaves home until he reaches work and the same on leaving work. That feature was grossly misrepresented, declared the speaker, stating that only when the workman steps on the premises in usual work or reports for work, or is in a common line of duty, is the employer liable.

Taking the insurance end of the law, which an employer is required to take out without any cash about the commission he is able to carry his own losses, was given a detailed discussion by Mr. Crownhart and declared that the state would get a correct rate from the companies and the large companies, eventually, pays the "bill." Under the act the small contractor is unable to carry the risk, and what we want is a cheaper rate for all employers.

"To evade this costly part of insurance law, I would suggest that the employers of Janesville form a mutual insurance company for Janesville men only, as experience has proven in cities where trade companies have been formed that by pooling their insurance bring down the rates to a reasonable figure and keep the money here, instead of allowing it to go to New York. The state classifies rates for industrial work by the state wide reports and other mutual insurance companies with a rate infinitely lower, that the guess work rate of the old line companies have been successful."

Crownhart defended the cost of the state industrial commission, giving statistics that the liability law decreased court costs in the state to a degree that overshadowed the cost of the commission. In part he said: Before only one workman out of three hundred recovered damages, and court costs increased over one hundred per cent as the employer was bound by his insurance contract to fight a damage suit at the command of the company. Now we find the employer taking steps to see that his workmen or their families take steps to see that a laborer gets what is coming to him. Before, where it took the courts weeks, months and years to decide a damage suit, it now takes the commission or the coverage less than one hour to settle conflicting points.

Defective parts of the law were admitted and Crownhart claimed that amounts for death and disability were paid too large enough, and expressed a desire that they be raised. "The great difficulty in awarding damages is to decide who deserves it and to weed out the cases where workmen are making claims, and we fail all other lines, we have given the workmen pro-

Get a bottle of Parisian Sage today from Smith Drug Co. or at any drug counter. It costs but 50 cents. Rub it into the scalp—all dandruff disappears—your head feels fine—the hair is pretty and perfectly healthy.

"I maintained," Mr. Crownhart, "Reports of every city show us where machinery is dangerous and at present the workman is protected by guards in a degree that is far better than compensation. Horrible experiences show us that the little accidents are the most fatal, such as small infection, and prompt relief is needed. After being asked questions by individuals, to which answers were given, the speaker was given a rising vote of thanks for his address."

S. A. GARDNER DIES
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Resident of County Since 1854 Succumbs Shortly After Two O'clock This Afternoon.

Stephen A. Gardner, for sixty years a resident of Rock county, passed away at his home on Mineral Point avenue shortly after two o'clock this afternoon. His death follows a prolonged illness of nearly three months.

Mr. Gardner was born in Milford county, Virginia, in 1845. He came to Wisconsin in 1854 and has made his home in Rock county since then. He served in the civil war and was a member of the local G. A. R. post. For many years he resided on a farm on the Madison road northwest of this city, but removed to Janesville several years ago. He was held in high regard by a large circle of friends who will be deeply grieved to learn of his passing.

He was married December 10, 1873 to Mary Byers who survives. He also leaves two sons, E. E. Gardner, residing on the local G. A. R. post, and one daughter, Mrs. Mae Austin, also of Janesville. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Funeral services for John Holt were held yesterday afternoon from the late home at two-thirty o'clock, T. C. Thompson officiating. Interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were: Herman Koelger, Ira Crosby, H. A. Ford, William Miller, Harry Maxfield and James Sheldon.

Mrs. Josephine Bogardus. Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Bogardus will be held Saturday afternoon from the home, 814 Prospect avenue, at two o'clock.

Louis D. E. Thom. Funeral services for Louis D. E. Thom were held this afternoon at two-thirty from the home, 716 South Washington street, and at two o'clock from the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Treu officiating. Interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery.

Eddie McGoorty made $6,000 by fighting on tour in Australia, which is just about the high-water mark for pennies per minute in the fight game. On second thought, it isn't the high-water mark, but it comes second to only one other. Joe Gans made perhaps a little more than that when he beat Frank Erne in one round in a fight at Fort Erie.

OPINIONS DIFFER AS TO RESULT OF FIGHT HELD IN MILWAUKEE

Wolga-Ritchie Bout in Milwaukee Called a Draw by Many Authorities Others Give Ritchie Shade.

There appears to be a wide difference of opinion as to the outcome of the Wolga-Ritchie boxing contest held in Milwaukee last evening. Some of the sporting writers give the contest to Ritchie, others call it a draw. The Milwaukee papers calling it the latter. Ten thousand people witnessed the contest and some forty thousand dollars was paid in admissions. The following account of the battle is taken from the Chicago Examiner and appears to be the fairest although it gives Ritchie the decision.

Ad Wolga failed to get his revenge. The Cadillac Dutchman was outwitted by Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie during the ten rounds of fighting tonight in the Auditorium ring before the banner crowd in Milwaukee's boxing history. The Californian won, but not by a wide margin. He did not even convince those present that he would surely be the better man in a long fight, for Wolga was after him in the last round, madly in the last round, and left the ring without a mark on face or body. The contest was won and lost through a dramatic occurrence in the seventh round. The men were fighting along viciously, head to head, when Ritchie suddenly uncorked two right swings to the Wolga stomach. With the head of the second padded fast on his body the Michigan Dutchman, backed and sank to the floor, holding his hands over his groin. He looked up at Referee Stout with an expression of pain on his face, and asked that he be awarded the bout on a foul.

Ritchie was a foal. Stout and the fallen Wolga and backed away to his corner, the while protesting that he had not struck low. Stout rushed over to Wolga, refused to allow his claim and ordered him to get up and continue to fight. Here Ritchie proved his ability as a ring officer. He believed that Ritchie's blows landed above the belt and he said so without hesitation. Wolga got up, apparently unhurt, and fought three minutes.

As far as the writer could see the Ritchie rights to the body looked to be fair punches. The men were close enough for us to watch them go home, though the blows were delivered with lightning quickness. Stout's quick ruling prevented the making of sensational ring history. Had Wolga's plea been hearkened to he would have received back the lightweight championship under the same identical circumstances that Ritchie took the crown away from him over a year and a half ago.

There were some of the critics at the ringside who accused Adolph of trying "to put something over." They asserted that, he went down in the hope of bluffing Stout into giving him the championship and pointed to Ad's sudden recovery when he found that he had to go on with the battle. Knockdown Decides Battle.

If Wolga did hope to win by feigning that he was fouled, he made a grave mistake, for he tossed off the fight by so doing. With Stout ruling that the blows were legal under the rules, Wolga's fall to the floor counted as a knockdown to Ritchie's credit. A knockdown is as good as three rounds won on points and the upset was what swung the popular verdict to the champion. Outside of that round Ad held the California boxing master pretty even, Ritchie having a shade in only one other session, the sixth.

three attempts. Sullivan, who tried later, required nine chances at it. At the time the thing was first done it created some little comment in baseball circles. The discussion of the incident came up in a banquet bee not long ago and some one present, real bright at figures, got out his pencil and with his knowledge of physics and so on was able to compute the speed.

We're not apt to hear of any big trades or half-raising deals this summer. The Feds have crabbled all chances of anything of that sort. Many one of these days and he'll be able to find a way out of it. And while it is very pleasant of Ritchie to compliment Murphy by a very evident disinclination to meet him in the ring, still he will have to buck up and come across some day. And what within another year, says Manager Jim Buckley.

Jim Buckley firmly believes that in another year Tommy Murphy, his lightweight charge, will be wearing the title of his class. Buckley is a philosophical cuss and prefers to think that Ritchie's many postponements of his fight with Tommy Murphy will only mean that Tommy will work harder to win when they finally meet. And they finally will, all right, Buckley assures us. Ritchie is going to have to engage with Murphy one of these days and he'll be able to find a way out of it. And while it is very pleasant of Ritchie to compliment Murphy by a very evident disinclination to meet him in the ring, still he will have to buck up and come across some day. And what within another year, says Manager Jim Buckley.

Wolga earned a shade in the fourth session and the rest was so evenly contested that they could not be handed to either combatant.

Wolga made the two best finish, slowing Ritchie up for a minute in the tenth with a smashing left to the stomach. He was tough and strong at the final bell and looked good for another ten rounds. For that reason the popular verdict in Ritchie's favor will not hurt him as a drawing card, either here or on the coast. The fight tonight did not decide definitely the question of superiority, and Willie will not be better than a 10 to 7 favorite if they collide again.

Wolga Puzzles Ritchie. It was not a wonderful fight, but it was good enough to enthrall the 10,000 present and send them home satisfied that they had seen the two best lightweights of the decade in furious combat with the five-ouncers for one-half hour. Wolga made it a shambling, scuffling affair much of the way because he refused to open up and fight until close enough to the champion to maul him and prevent the landing of that famous right cross that overthrew him in their previous engagement.

The puzzling Wolga guard fouled that right cross all the way and forced Willie to resort to swings and uppercuts, chiefly the latter, with that jaw. The punches that brought Ad down in the seventh were half-uppercuts and swings, delivered as Willie pulled his body away from his foe in a clinch, the champion backing away just enough to get all his force into the wallop.

Willie Ritchie was first in the ring. He flashed a broad smile and shook hands with friends about the ringside. Willie wore a red flowered bathrobe. Harry Foley and Eddie Tancel were his chief seconds.

Jones then insisted that more room be given for Wolga's seconds to work in and got into a dispute with Promoter Andrews and the police. Wolga finally emerged from the dressing room door and a mighty cheer went up as he made his way through the crowd. There was no question as to who was the favorite. He did not look at Ritchie as he bowed his acknowledgment of the applause.

Wolga Appears Determined. Jones and Freddie Andrews had charge of the Wolga corner, with Frank Mulken as an extra adviser. Wolga smiled, his shoulders encased in a striped bathrobe towel. Ad looked more determined, however, than he did on the night of his recent fight with Rivers.

The gloves were slowly adjusted and the men paused for a flashlight. The crowd was strangely quiet on the eve of the great battle, but everyone of the 10,000 light lovers cheered lustily as the men were formally introduced to the vast audience.

Hard Drill of Week Is Experienced Yesterday Afternoon—Team's Record Is Among the Best.

Jefferson high school basketball tossers are in the city where they will clash with the Janesville highs, champs of southern Wisconsin, tonight in the high school gymnasium. Predictions are that the Bower City quintet will have to work for what score they can acquire, against the husky Jefferson foe, who are said to be all heavyweights. The lineup for tonight will be, Atwood, I. T., Stickney, R. T., Capt. Hemming, C.; Stewart, I. G., Dalton, R. G.

Janesville highs have one of the best records in the state. Their defeat at Freeport, does not harm whatsoever, while the Madison five ultimately informed the players that they must improve before they could travel in fast company. This they have done, and up to tonight hold the following record:

Janesville, 45; Alumni, 19. Janesville, 22; Freeport, 26. Janesville, 47; Stoughton, 22. Janesville, 31; Edgerton, 23. Janesville, 24; Madison, 25. Janesville, 20; Elkhorn, 27. Janesville, 24; Monroe, 14. Janesville, 69; Evansville, 29. At Beloit Tournament, Janesville, 21; Stoughton, 8. Janesville, 38; Waukesha, 17. Janesville, 27; Edgerton, 26. Janesville, 21; Beloit, 18.

Baraboo high school basketball five won their first elimination game Wednesday evening at Reedsburg, against the fast Spang aggregation, a final score being 36 to 21. Baraboo are comers, and will give LaCrosse a good game, when the two teams meet, if they do. LaCrosse are not anxious to enter the tourney by the elimination route, and consequently the second place team of last year may not be seen on the Lawrence tourney floor in the state clashes.

Oshkosh Tourney. Fond du Lac highs eliminated the Sheboygan high in the first game of the Oshkosh Normal tourney last night, winning by the score of 14 to 7. The first half was close, Fondy leading by a 9 to 6 count. In the second game of the meet, Appleton highs trimmed the Weyauwega quintet, by a 27 to 21 count. Appleton led in the first half, 15 to 10. Oshkosh won from Waukegan by the score of 31 to 23, while Marshfield barely won from Ripon, 15 to 13. Fond du Lac and Appleton, and Oshkosh and Marshfield, play today in the semi-finals.

Memomone Meet. The Northwest Wisconsin interscholastic basketball tourney, opened at Menomoneie yesterday afternoon. Scores of the first day's games follow:

Stanley 23, Rice Lake 12; Cumberland 26, Eau Claire 17; Mellen 23, Glenwood City 18; Menomoneie 41, Arcadia 24.

Stanley and Cumberland and Menomoneie and Mellen play in the semi-finals tonight.

HE'D BE A GREAT HELP TO THE FEDS

Christy Mathewson.

President Gilmore of the Federal league is straining heaven and earth to induce Christy Mathewson to quit the New York Giants and manage the Brooklyn Federal league team. It is acknowledged that "Matty" would be a bigger help to the Feds than any one else the outlaws have signed up. He is taking his time to make a decision.

Wiping Out Grease Stains. For grease stains on fast colors, benzine can be used. For dry paint stains, rub with equal parts of turpentine and alcohol.

BOBBY McLEAN'S BUSY BUSTING RECORDS

Robert McLean.

Robert McLean of Chicago made a new world's ice skating record at Lake Placid, N. Y., the other day. He covered the fifty-yard dash in five seconds flat, one-fifth of a second better than the record made by Morris Wood at Pittsburg in 1907. McLean has been the hero of many ice skating contests this winter and is hailed as the world's amateur champion.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Saturday with somewhat higher temperature.

There is a provision in the session laws of 1913 that makes it possible for cities the size of Janesville and Beloit to increase their representation in the county board and in the interests of the cities this should be looked into.

The Mississippi river has been heard from. It is awakening from its winter slumber and will start towards the gulf again with its flood period, shortly to be joined soon by the Ohio.

It looks as though Judge Karel would have the democratic field to himself after all when all is said and done. Of course it is many moons to the September primaries but thus far he has a clear field.

Walworth county is going to be the next of the southern counties to take up the question of holding a county convention to protest on the high taxes. More power to you.

It looks like a case of "Erin, mein! Mo!" when it comes to making any choice for governor among the republican candidates thus far announced.

On the Spur of the Moment

Some Waitress.

The following story is told of a well-known New York traveling man. He went into the dining room of a small country hotel, glanced at the menu and then looked at the pretty young waitress. "Nice day, little one," he began. "Yes, it is," she answered, "and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I am a peach and have pretty blue eyes, and like the place, and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working here. If I did, I'd quit my job. My wages are satisfactory, and I don't think there's a show or dance in town to go to. There is a show in town with you, and I'm from a respectable family, and my brother is cook in this hotel, and he weighs 200 pounds, and last week he wiped up this floor with a hundred-dollar-monthly traveling man who tried to make a date with me. Now, what'll you have?"

What Drives Box Office People Crazy. "Are you sure it is going to be a good show?"

"Have you got two goods seats facing the stage? Are they behind a post?"

"Do you know whether the Mr. Jones who is with this show is the same Mr. Jones who played in 'Way Down East' in 1895?"

"Are you sure I won't sit next to some man with a bullet breath?"

"Do you think my husband would like the show? If so, I have a notion to have two seats laid away and then if we don't come, you can sell them to somebody else."

"Can you hear better from the back of the house or from the side? If so, why?"

"Do you think there will be a good crowd? What did the New York papers say about the show?"

"Is that lovely leading man married?"

The Old Boss.

The motor car was stalled in snow. With all its power it couldn't go. It wouldn't budge a single inch. The blizzard had it in a pinch. The car was weak and helpless, too. But the old boss, he pulled through.

The railroad train, a mighty thing. Was stalled. It wasn't moving. The engineer did all he could. The drifts had it tied for good. To wait was all it could do. But the old boss, he pulled through.

Signs of the Times.

New York doctor sued dead man's estate for services rendered. The rate of $16.50 a minute. That patient simply had to die quickly to save money.

Now they will have dining cars in the New York subway. New Yorkers can eat soup in the gloom just as noisily as above ground.

Philadelphia scientist says wearing thick underwear causes red noses. Perhaps whisky has been blamed unjustly all these years.

Embezzler arrested in Chicago was found to have fifteen fancy vests. He should have been arrested regardless of the embezzlement.

Almo, Schumann-Heink's husband, was not allowed her to get a divorce without a fight. It is hard to part with a good contract meal ticket.

Texas man became so excited over his approaching wedding that he lost his memory. Most men wait until after the wedding.

PROVE AEROPLANE TO BE GREAT FACTOR IN MODERN WARFARE BY BOMB CONTEST

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Pomona, Cal., March 13.—To prove the efficacy of the aeroplane in modern warfare, Aviators Glenn Martin, Charles Willard and Ignatius Somborne made an aerial attack today upon the fortified position of a battalion of California National guardsmen. Several thousand spectators at the Pomona speedway watched the contest. International rules of warfare were observed and army officers acted as judges. The aviators made individual attacks and worked at other times in a systematically planned offense, raining bombs upon the camp. Martin was scheduled tomorrow to attempt to break the world's passenger carrying records for endurance and altitude.

HAVE RENTED GRAND

YEARS FROM APRIL 1

McNeil Hotel Company to Take Charge Shortly.—Mr. Wild to Retire From Business.

As announced in last evening's Gazette, the deal for the lease of the Grand Hotel by the McNeil Hotel Company, present proprietors of the Myers Hotel, was closed, Mr. Wild selling his lease and giving possession April 1. During his residence here Mr. Wild and his family have made many friends in the city, who will regret they are leaving. The announcement that the McNeil Hotel Company will continue in business in Janesville, will be received with approval by business men and citizens generally. During their ten year lease of the Myers, which expires May 1, they have made many friends, and with their manager, G. W. Squires, have many friends on the road who open up their regret that they would not have been able to stay in Janesville, where the local field, when it was learned the Myers hotel properly had been leased to the Hamilton Hotel Company.

William McNeil said this morning: "Our plans are now completed yet, we are very glad to remain in business in Janesville. For the present it is probable that Mr. Squires will move to Janesville to assume the management of the Grand when we take possession April 1. Our lease at the Myers does not expire until May first, but it is probable that we will close this hotel some time during the month as we must dispose of the furniture and fittings. Part of the furnishings we will doubtless send to the Portage Hotel at Portage, which we own, and some will be taken to the Hilton at Edgerton. We rest with the disposal of it. It is understood that the decision of the McNeil company to remain in Janesville was brought about by prominent business men who urged Mrs. McNeil to make an offer for the Grand Hotel. The deal was closed late Thursday afternoon.

SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Janesville Affirmative Trio Are In Illinois City to Discuss Lit-cracy Test Tonight

In what will perhaps close the debating season for the Janesville high school, will be the debate tonight at La Grange, Illinois, where the negative trio from that place will oppose the Janesville affirmative speakers on the question. Resolved, that the literacy test is the desirable method of further restricting foreign immigration into the United States.

Carl Schooff, George Spohn, and Karl Frick, accompanied by Prof. J. T. Shafer, made the trip to the Illinois territory. Even should the Bowler City men win this contest, they are no better off in the league, because of their losing two previous debates. The league will undoubtedly disband after tonight.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL PUPILS HEAR MUSIC OF MENDELSSOHN
Thursday afternoon the members of the eighth grade of the Washington school were given a rare treat when the life of Mendelssohn, a picture of whom Mrs. Fife recently presented to the class. She also played several of the great composer's pieces. It is not often that a class of grade school pupils have the opportunity to listen to such a high quality of music.

Notice: Officers of America Rebekah staff, No. 26, are requested to be present Saturday evening for initiation and wear white. Alice Mason, captain.

GIVEN INSPIRATION FOR SEASON'S WORK

MID-WINTER SESSION OF ECONOMICS CLUB IS MOST SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION.

HEAR GRAHAM TAYLOR

Great Chicago Lecturer Gives Stirring Address at Afternoon Session at Baptist Church.

With a mid-winter meeting that brought together women from Beloit, Whitewater, Evansville, Brodhead, Janesville, Portville, Oxfordville, and a large number from this city, the Summer Club of Household Economics celebrated its eighth birthday at the Baptist church in this city yesterday.

Mrs. Ada Kimberley presided at the business meeting held in the forenoon hours. The finances of the club were found to be in a flourishing condition, a summary of the work accomplished since the last regular meeting and a schedule of future plans for the improvement and betterment of the club were concisely outlined. New officers were elected, the outgoing ones were rendered a vote of thanks for their splendid work, delegates named to attend the first district convention of the state federation to be held at Egerton April 28 and 29, tribute paid to the memory of departed members, and twenty-one new members taken into the organization.

Live Up To Slopan. The club has as its motto: "As we believe, so shall we achieve." Listening to its reports one realizes that each and every member has faith that they have accomplished deeds that are really worth the telling. Especially was this noticeable in the philanthropic division in the work they have done for little children of the congested districts of Chicago. Anecdotes, some mirth-provoking, some pathetic in the extreme, were recounted concerning the children that this club, the members standing shoulder to shoulder, have endeavored to bring to a better vision of life in general.

District President Mrs. D. O. Kinsman of Whitewater, in a forcefully presented address, suggested the advisability of the club joining the state federation. While the members were strongly in favor of many of the reasons for joining, so ably put forth by Mrs. Kinsman, by vote of sixty-one to twelve they decided to remain as they are for the present.

The Janesville Gazette was given a vote of thanks for their every ready aid and willingness to co-operate with this club in every way possible for the eventual public good.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President—Mrs. William Leek, Beloit; vice president—Mrs. Campbell of Evansville; recording secretary—Mrs. Grace Bradley of Janesville; corresponding secretary—Mrs. O. D. Bates, Janesville; treasurer—Mrs. George Osgood of Janesville; auditor—Mrs. William Dean, Avalon.

Enjoy Fine Program. A dinner that demonstrated that the ladies lived up to the spirit as well as the letter of the instructions that the club in its infancy saw fit to take, was served by the ladies of the Baptist church to about one hundred of the members.

The program committee, consisting of Madames Ada Kimberley, Mary Clithero and Sylvia Colony, presented the following program at the afternoon session, beginning at two o'clock. Music (Double No.)—Defiance March, Symphony Orchestra, graded schools under the direction of Miss Sewell.

Vocal solos (Double No.)—"The Time in May" and "Dusk of Evening," Ada Lewis.

Edith Soverhill, accompanist. Recitation—"Happy Uncle Joe."

Piano solo—Graham Taylor's Wedding March, Bessie Buell.

Musical reading—"The Old Piano" Mrs. Harry Garbutt.

Lecture—"The Work of the Household for the Neighborhood and the Town," Graham Taylor, Chicago.

Federation hymn—"Blest Be the Tie That Binds All Hearts in Christian Love."

In a necessary wait of a few moments before Prof. Taylor's lecture, Mrs. Janet B. Day, in her inimitable way, gave a clever little sketch on the need of keeping up with the procession and in a snappy, short talk, urged the members to get together, stay together and do things.

Taylor's Great Message. The address of Graham Taylor was without doubt as fine a message as any ever delivered within the walls of the Baptist church. Prof. Taylor had a message to deliver, a story to tell, and while at times his mode of delivery is halting, as you listen the fitful spark of your enthusiasm is fanned into a glowing flame by his sincerity, earnestness and strong desire to make you see as he sees the vital need of Christian charity in our every day life. Without apparent effort he takes you into a world of his own—Graham Taylor's world—a world where every man, woman, and child is given the right to live as God intended they should; where in the right sense of the word, every man and every woman is big, clean, and fair. He says things that affect you like a dash of cold water in the face. He rolls up the curtain of conventionality and presents to your rather startled gaze a picture of man's inhumanity to man (and woman) that you like to think does not, can not exist. He is no pessimist. For every gloomy wrong he pictures he has a practical remedy, and, as the needle to the pole, he reverts over to the fact that our eventual salvation lies in the Christian faith, in its ability to enter the world with its purifying, uplifting influence.

If the Summer Club of Household Economics had never done one worthy deed in its eight years of existence (in many it is credit) save the bringing of Graham Taylor to this city, it would not have existed in vain. To the women instrumental in bringing him here the thanks of Janesville and her surrounding towns are due.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidences that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever indigestion is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

SAM SCHEPPS FLED TO SOUTH AMERICA

Sam Schepps.

Sam Schepps, whom District Attorney Whitman expects (or expected) to use in the second trial of former police Lieutenant Charles Becker of New York for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, to corroborate the testimony of Rose, Webber and Vallon, has left the country, and it is said has fled to South America. Joseph Shay, attorney for Becker, will attempt to prove at the second trial that Schepps was an accomplice of Rose, Vallon and Webber, and if he succeeds the results would be highly unpleasant for Schepps.

WANTS MONTE CARLO AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mayor William Riddle.

Atlantic City, N. J., the famous pleasure resort, is all stirred up over the recent declaration of Mayor William Riddle that he would like to see the town become an American Monte Carlo. He says he favors lifting the lid and winking at stringent excise laws.

Criminals Have Low Temperatures. Coldbloodedness is a physical characteristic of the habitual criminal and the temperature of murderers is strikingly below normal, according to statistics published by the American Medical association. General physical degeneracy is found to stigmatize the criminal. The average convict is three inches below the normal in stature, light in weight and with small chest expansion.

Relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints, can not injure and doesn't burn the skin. Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those tortuous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this directly upon the ache, and like magic, lasting relief.

NANCY AND ALONZO

By JULIA T. BISHOP.

Miss Nancy stood at the kitchen window, holding the snowy curtains close together, and yet through the tiny crack between them watching the two, who were walking gaily away from the orchard. The hand that held the curtains trembled, and the eyes that watched were wistfully conscious of the springtime blossoms raining down from the apple trees and of the springtime's freshness in Millie's pretty face and gleaming hair. Could this be the Miss Nancy who had gone into the gallery an hour since, prim, severe, dignified, to meet Alonzo Burton, who had been her sweetheart years and years ago?

No doubt he had forgotten all about her—the boy and girl sweethearts—what did they matter to a busy man? She would never let him see that she remembered.

And the hour had passed, and now he had gone walking with pretty Millie through the orchard and across the meadow. And as Miss Nancy watched them away, holding the curtains with that trembling hand, she all at once realized with a sense of desolation that little Millie, brother John's orphaned baby, had grown up. When she came out presently into the soft spring sunset, there was a look of grim composure on her face. She reckoned proudly with herself that nothing was altered in her level, hard-working life. She knelt down beside the row of peavines, humming a tune, but ceased in a little while and smiled bitterly to remember that the man out there walking with Millie had serenaded her with that little song—a love song it was, she remembered now—so long ago.

It had grown too dark for her work and still Miss Nancy knelt beside the peavines, her pen not half filled. It was the sound of their voices that startled her from her reverie. They were strolling slowly back, close along the garden fence.

"And so you think you and Jack are in love with one another," said the man, reflectively. "And afraid to tell Miss Nancy! It makes me laugh to think of it, Millie—two such babies as you and Jack."

"I'm eighteen," said Millie, in eager disclaimer; "and Jack's twenty-three." "Yes—it's been a good many years," the man sighed, simply. "Millie—I wonder—do you think Miss Nancy ever cared anything for me?"

Millie paused and wheeled around, facing him in the uncertain light. "Aunt Nancy?" she cried. "Why, whatever made you think of that? I haven't heard her say—but I shouldn't think Aunt Nancy had ever loved anybody."

"I wish I knew," he said, dubiously, and in deep dejection. "There ain't many like her, Millie. I couldn't help looking at her this evening and thinking how pretty she was, after all these years. And you don't think—she never seemed like she cared for anybody?"

They had paused beside the garden gate, and their voices sank lower. After awhile Miss Nancy crept through the dark, and found her trembling way into Millie's room, struck a match and lit the lamp. The mirror on the little dresser gave back a reflection of a woman, her lips parted, a frightened, joyful look in her eyes.

The astonished mirror saw Miss Nancy snatch her hair down from its night coil and pile it up awkwardly again, in trembling haste. Little fluffy curls and tendrils broke out around her temples, and the light gleamed in them. If she only had a pretty ribbon, now—but she had only one, for Sundays, and it was black. It had been years since she had worn any but black ribbon—and as for looks, who cared how she looked? Had she not told herself that a thousand times?

Even while she was saying it again, she pulled down a drawer, the least little bit. A pink ribbon, one of Millie's ribbons, lay at the very top. If she only dared—would they laugh at her for trying to appear young, when youth was so long gone by?

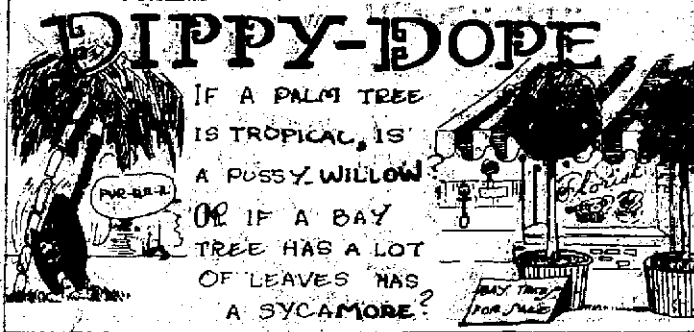

Millie had a light in the kitchen and was talking merrily with the guest when the door softly and shyly opened, and Miss Nancy stood there, pink-ribboned, flushing. Millie cast one amazed look at her, and discreetly fled, but the man moved toward her, half-unconsciously, holding out his hands. "Why, Nannie!" he cried. "Nannie!"

Years had slipped from Miss Nancy's life. "Millie didn't know Lon," she said.

No Reciprocity. "I see intimations that baseball players sign articles for publication which they do not actually write," said Mr. Slayspace.

"Yes," replied Mr. Penwiggles. "It shows what a hard time we literary people have. Nobody would think of allowing us to sign up our names to other people's ball games."

Pretty Sure. Whenever a man is threatened by the deep sea he is pretty sure to find the devil on the other side of him.

At the THEATER

"WHITE HOPES" AT THE APOLLO.

Two young "white hopes," the Ross Brothers, put on the cleverest exhibition that has ever been seen performed by youngsters. They have tracks; the crash of a six ton boulder onto a fat car; the clanking of huge chains; the creaking of strange machinery; the cries of men and the boom of blasts; they can, for the first time, form an adequate conception of the immensity of a task that no words can ever convey to the mind. They can then realize the prodigious proportions of the work and obtain a precise comprehension of the infinity of detail involved in the undertaking.

Suddenly the scenes change from the broadly perspective, and from moving panoramas, to close range observation of the gigantic dredges shoving into the hillside, then effort they swing their long arms mouthfuls of dirt. The American inventive mind has adapted these monsters of steel to their task so well that they perform it with an accuracy that is almost uncanny. It is, however, only one of many mechanical marvels shown in a reproduction which is replete with surprises of mechanical ingenuity and skill. The program will include many other big new features.

"PEG O' MY HEART."

"Peg O' My Heart," by J. Hartley Manners, will be the attraction at Myers Theater Thursday March 19th with Florence Martin in the leading role of the Irish lassie whose wit and charm is so entrancing. The story of the play, which has been

Miss Florence Martin as "Peg" in Oliver Morosco's greatest Current Success, running continuously in New York for considerably over a year, had to do with the girl's introduction into a snobbish and aristocratic English family, and the ensuing complications and tears. Oliver Morosco has provided a lavish production and the cast is a brilliant one including Isabel Vernon, Colla Campbell, Maude Allen, Fred L. Tilden, Nella Moran, Pelt Trenton, John Lyons, Reginald Carrington, etc.

Tooth Talks

Proper attention to the mouth of the sick should be particularly paid for at no time is hygiene more important than during illness. The secretions in the mouth during sickness are always more or less changed from their normal state and decomposition of the soft foods that are retained in the mouth, which is very detrimental to the teeth. This changed state of the mouth secretions makes them detrimental to the stomach, for rapid decomposition goes on in the mouth, it follows that the saliva in an unclean mouth is loaded heavily with bacteria of several varieties and the mouth should not be overlooked as a factor in the rapid recovery of the patient.

How quickly the tongue becomes coated when one is sick. This unnatural state is more or less all over the mouth. The teeth should be scraped clean but the tongue should be scraped and kept clean as much as possible. This accumulation on the tongue, teeth and gums should never be allowed to mix with the food, especially when we are in a weakened state when the sick list. Nature has more than enough to do to eliminate the poisons already in ones system, without our adding more to it.

Oral hygiene aids the physician in his work. A patient whose mouth is in an unsanitary condition will absorb a certain amount of toxins which will lessen the resistance of the tissues, change chemical composition of the blood and have a serious influence on all the organs of the body. When the mouth is alive with germs these germs will certainly be carried to the stomach and intestines where they will cause irritation, fermentation, etc.

The old saying that "The Lord helps those that help themselves" ought to be applied to mouth hygiene. How can we expect to get well if we insist on loading our systems full of germs from our unclean mouths, the best incubator in the world for germs to live and grow large families.

Air-borne diseases attack the body easier through the mouth than through the nose. The nose is especially fitted to filter the air and if it were not so, we might fill our lungs full of dust and coal soot. Mouth breathing permits infection to reach the lungs. The mouth is a funnel through which we can easily pour infection to the stomach and lungs.

A mouth kept clean and in a healthy condition early in life prevents more disease later than any other measure taken by governments. Mouth hygiene is of greater importance than any other branch of hygiene.

But They Generally Do.

A man with a big voice and broad shoulders can always get a reputation for being wise if he doesn't insist on talking too much.

RUFFLES ARE RAGE FOR SPRING WEAR; GIRDLES IN STYLE

Women Will Have Ruffles to Right of Them, Ruffles to Left of Them, for Dame Fashion Says So.

By Margaret Mason.

She ruffles her coats and she ruffles her frocks, She ruffles her hats and she ruffles her locks; She ruffles her sleeves and her bodice so low, While her temper is easily ruffled also.

New York, March 12. To be fashionable you must be ruffled from top to toe. We have been straight lined and stimpsey and sleek so long that once the break was made there has been a mad revolt from the straight and narrow. The consequence is an amazing eruption of ruffles on all the spring frocks and hats.

While most of the ruffling on the gowns catches you on the hip following the approved hippy outline of the tunic, puff and pannier, others begin at the knee and take a crooked and bias path to the waist line. Some of the ruffles have been dared to break into that narrow zone about the ankles and on some of the newest and popular. The neck frills evolved from the taffeta medium are very chic but not as full as those of the thinner fabrics.

The new suit coats are all cut with a flaring ruffle around the bottom when the suit is of serge or the heavier twilled silks. When the suit is of finished with ruffles as full and flamboyant as the law allows.

Separate silk draps of flowered or plain silk that goes to your head is the new little halo made up for all fashionable dinners in imitation of saintlier models. It is fashioned of a tulle frill that stands out from the face in most approved halo fashion.

Since we have taken to hulos it is no wonder that waistlines are again striving to lead the higher life. For evening gowns and in fact for all dressy occasions the high waist is again de rigueur, although the normal line still clings triumphant about your middle for middle day wear.

After the surfeit of wide girdles and sashes galore it is a promised relief from monotony that many Parisian dressmakers and designers are now favoring narrow inch-and-a-half girdles or rather belts and in many instances no girdle at all but simply a line of joining between the blouse and skirt. Of course the girdles will not submit to annihilation without a struggle and so it is putting forth new lures and fascination to hold its devotees.

Not the least of these charmers is a girdle composed of two and three shades of contrasting colors. One in a sweet pea shade of pink is adorable. In three shades of green, yellow or American beauty tints these girdles are indeed lovely and it is well to have at least one about you even if the rest of your wardrobe be girdleless.

It is sad to relate, but waistlines on sport and top coats absolutely refuse to be elevated like the rest of their ilk. They have sunk to the lowest depths. Even the belts that hang around them have fallen into their low ways and slump loose and discouragingly in the rear.

ABE MARTIN

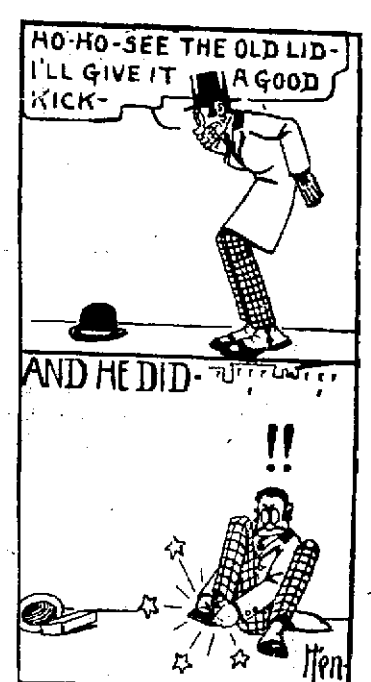

In th' ole days before th' player planner an' th' phonograph a feller could visit his friends with safety. It must be great 't' be rich an' let th' other feller keep up appearances.

Europe's War Material. Europe withdraws from industry 4, 500,000 men to make soldiers of them. They are kept from one to three years. What an appalling waste; how doubly preposterous if efficiency can be insured with militia training. —New York World.

Her Diagnosis. Betsey, an old colored cook, was moaning around the kitchen one day, when her mistress asked her if she was ill. "No, ma'am, not 'zactly," said Betsey. "But the fac' is, I don't feel ambition 'nough to git outter my own way." —Exchange.

AND HE DID

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN WILL DIGEST FOOD WHEN YOUR STOMACH CAN'T—IT'S GREAT

Stops Indigestion, Sourness, Nausea, Gas, Dyspepsia in five minutes—Fine for Stomach.

If you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you need Pape's Diapepsin to stop food fermentation and indigestion.

It neutralizes excessive acid, stomach poison, absorbs the mucus-making gas and stops fermentation which sours your entire meal and causes dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilioousness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your real food you eat.

and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer in five minutes that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Centurth of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.

Strawberry Wine Praised.
Regarded medicinally, strawberry wine is held to be superior to grape wine. Spanish doctors who have investigated the matter report that strawberry wine gives the greater strength to a weakened constitution. The strawberry wine industry is said to be assuming some importance in Spain.

Foolish Self-Condensation.
No comfort for the living or the dead can be won from vain self-commendation. No consolation can be gained while you nurse the imagining that a certain trouble might have been avoided. What we have to do is to try to escape from other troubles that are truly avoidable—troubles of a useless remorse, a present neglect, a listless apathy that will not reach forth for the good things still to be gathered.—Exchange.

Gift of Books.
When I consider what some books have done for the world, and what they are doing, how they keep up our hope, awaken new courage and faith, soothe pain, give an ideal life to those whose hours are cold and hard, bind together distant ages and foreign lands, create new worlds of beauty, bring down truth from heaven; I give eternal blessings for this gift, and thank God for books.—James Freeman Clark.

I D CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs" to clean the bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the food waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system and your child is well and playful child again.
All children love this harmless delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" clean-sage. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

TORTURED BY UGLY ITCHING ERUPTION

Doctor Recommended Resinol. Half of a 50c Jar Cured It.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5, 1912.—"My little daughter was taken with a very small spot on the back of her hand. It grew larger and caused her more trouble. When she would scratch it, it would bleed and get very ugly looking, so I doctored it myself for about a year, and at last it broke out on both knees, and when she would go to bed she would scratch, and was so tortured and suffered so from the itching, that I took her to our doctor, who recommended Resinol Sap and Resinol Ointment.

"I sent for samples and after the first application the itching and inflammation was improved, and I kept it up night and morning, and the time the sample was gone she complained very little, so I got a fifty-cent jar, and before that was half gone the trouble had entirely disappeared."
(Signed) Mrs. Maude Schmechel, 5277 Pres-bury Street.

Resinol is speedily effective for itching, burning eruptions, pimples, dandruff, burned sores and piles. Sold by all druggists.

inol Chemical Co., New York, N. Y.
